

Lesson: Audio Commentary for 'A Journey for Peace' Tour in Liverpool		Comic: All
Overview of Key Skills Spoken Language To write for a wide range of purposes and audiences		Cross-curricular links History ICT Media
Learning Objectives:	To use Standard English confidently To present ideas and keep to the point To write/present to inform, describe and entertain To summarise and organise material
Key Teaching Points / Research Opportunities	Explain the brief and discuss learning objectives Recap purpose and audience Research <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The statues (appearance, sculptor etc) ● The subjects of the statues (lives, merits etc) ● The symbolism of the statues
Independent Work	You have been asked by Liverpool Council Events and Tourism department to contribute to a new tour of 'A Journey for Peace' landmarks in the city. Task Complete the research above Write and present an audio commentary for tourists to listen to at each of the landmarks. The duration of each commentary is 3 minutes. Record your commentary Think about who your commentary is aimed at – choose adults or children You should include Information about the statue itself Information about the subject Information about any meaning the statue may have Consider Style Register
Plenary	Share your commentary with your family/group and listen to their feedback Ask them how you could improve your work Redraft if necessary
Resources, including ICT	All comics ICT Recording equipment
Key Questions	Is the commentary informative? Is the commentary interesting and entertaining? Does the commentary fulfil its purpose?

	Is the commentary appropriate for its chosen audience?
Vocabulary	Commentary formal/informal style register factual
Success Criteria	To express ideas with clarity and keeping to the point To draw on understanding of purpose, audience and context To produce an appropriate commentary - content and presentation
Assessment Opportunities	Recorded commentary Feedback from listeners