

Lesson: Journey for Peace, Comics, French. Lesson 3.	Comic: All 7 Comics.
Overview of Key Skills Listening to single directions and then sets of directions being read out by staff and demonstrating understanding of these. Giving directions to specific places on a map.	Cross-curricular links Geography : Citizenship
Learning Objectives:	All pupils to demonstrate understanding of simple directions in French and all pupils to give simple directions orally. More able pupils to demonstrate understanding of more complex directions- 3 consecutive instructions or more and use of prepositions of place (Listening and Reading work) More able pupils to give more complex directions- 3 consecutive instructions or more and use of prepositions of place (Speaking and Writing)
Key Teaching Points / Research Opportunities	Pupils to be given a map (large print or braille) that has the location of all the statues on it and also shows where each statue is, in relation to the other statues. Pupils to be given a vocabulary list of directions-some previously learned- to read through and note Less able or younger pupils could reinforce learning of vocabulary to give directions by listening to, learning and doing the actions of 'Le port, le port, c'est loin ?'. Listening exercise in class using the map to test pupils understanding of key vocab and to familiarise them with the map and explore it in the context of the comics story-line. Pair-work- pupils to take turns to give each other directions from a given point to one of the statues.. Success if they follow the directions and get to the right statue.
Independent Work	The initial exploring of the large print or braille maps, will be done independently by each pupil. Pupils can research unknown vocabulary using text dictionaries or using www.wordreference.com .
Plenary	Pupils in small groups to give a short presentation describing fluently how to get from one particular statue to another. Then pupils are to demonstrate understanding when they read out a route for Eoin to follow.
