Absence Notification Procedure

In order to qualify for payment of occupational sick pay, you must comply with the following notification and certification rules.

On the first day of absence

Report your absence to the Duty Head by telephone before 8.00 am or at least 3 hours before the commencement of your working hours. In the absence/unavailability of the Principal your absence must be reported to your line manager within the time specified above.

The Duty Head will then report absences to administrative staff who will duly log the absence and report such to pay roll staff at CBI.

Note: Your contact with the Principal/Duty Head or Line Manager must be by telephone, no other means of contact is permitted e.g. by text, letter or e-mail. In exceptional cases, a relative or friend may report your absence in the same manner.

In certain circumstances, some employees may be required to produce a doctor's statement from the first day of absence. You will have been advised if this requirement applies to you.

If your absence is as a result of an industrial injury, you must obtain and submit to the Office Manager a doctor's statement from the first day of your absence. This must be received by the 4th day of absence.

On the 8th day of your absence (assuming your absence lasts more than 7 days) obtain and submit a doctor's certificate, (MED3) to the main school office (this must be received by the 8th day of your absence including weekends).

Continuing absence

Obtain and submit a doctor's certificate to the Office Manager which must be received on the day that your previous doctor's statement expires.

Returning to work

You must notify the Principal, or your Line Manager in his absence, prior to your return, when you have an expected date of return to work, ideally at least the day before the return to work, where the absence has been for more than five working days. It is most important, after a prolonged absence, that returning staff liaise closely with the Principal or Line Manager to discuss a return to work programme. These steps will afford the school the opportunity of exercising its duty of care to staff.

You must obtain and submit, upon returning to work, a doctor's statement confirming your fitness to return to work.

Note: This is only required if your previous statement did not specify a return to work date.

In the event that you fail to comply with any of the above requirements your sickness pay may be withheld.

It is reasonable for the Principal and Line Managers to expect regular contact with absent employees regarding the progress of their sickness. The regularity and nature of this contact will be dependent on the nature and length of the illness.

Reporting an absence during school holidays

During school holidays, staff who are required to work during that period should contact their Line Manager who will inform the Finance Department . If your Line Manager is unavailable then you should contact the Finance Department

Absence Management

The Principal and Governors are responsible for ensuring that absence within the school is managed appropriately and that unacceptable levels are challenged. Whilst absences may be for genuine reasons, it must also be emphasised that if absence management is neglected, it can have serious consequences on the school as a whole, particularly in terms of budget, staff morale, and service delivery to pupils.

All employees will have a return to work interview upon their return to work following an illness. Line managers should then use this opportunity to review absence history and take appropriate action if required. Employees who have been absent from school with a stress related condition, or for a period of 4 weeks or more, will be referred to the School's Occupational Health Physician. Management intervention also enables managers to provide employees with appropriate levels of support.

The Principal and Governors recognise that the health of staff is part of their management responsibility and as such they have a requirement to manage any risk to the health of employees, which may arise, from their duties and working conditions. This includes ensuring that duties and working conditions do not exacerbate pre-existing health problems and that the health and safety of other staff is not adversely affected by a colleague being unfit.
