

A JOURNEY FOR PEACE

St. Vincent's
Comic 7

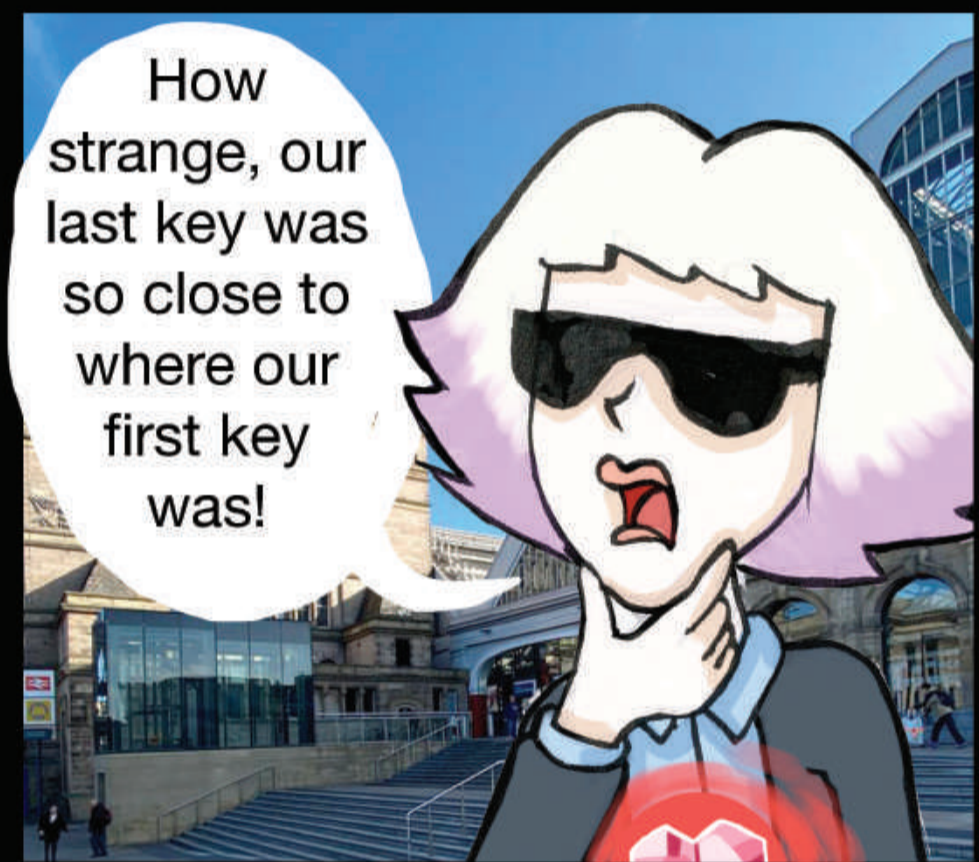

To St George's Hall to get our last key!

Look! People are returning to the streets and are good people again... Maybe having 6 of the keys is helping?

Seems like we've gone full circle! St Georges Hall is right by Lime Street!

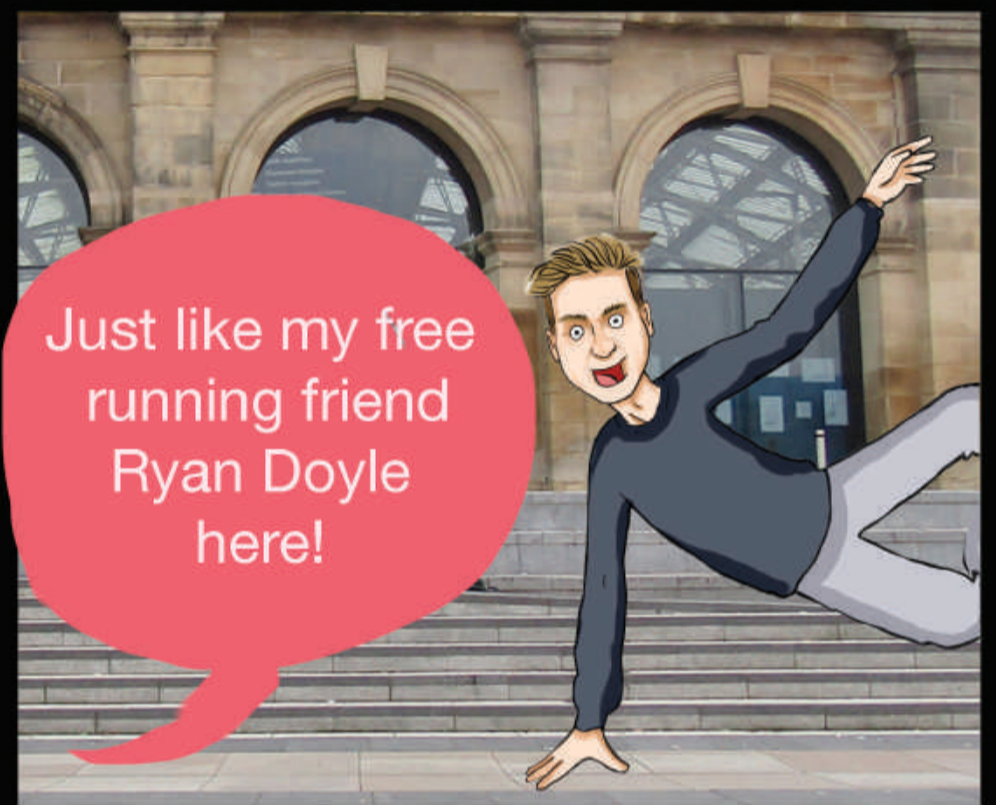

How strange, our last key was so close to where our first key was!

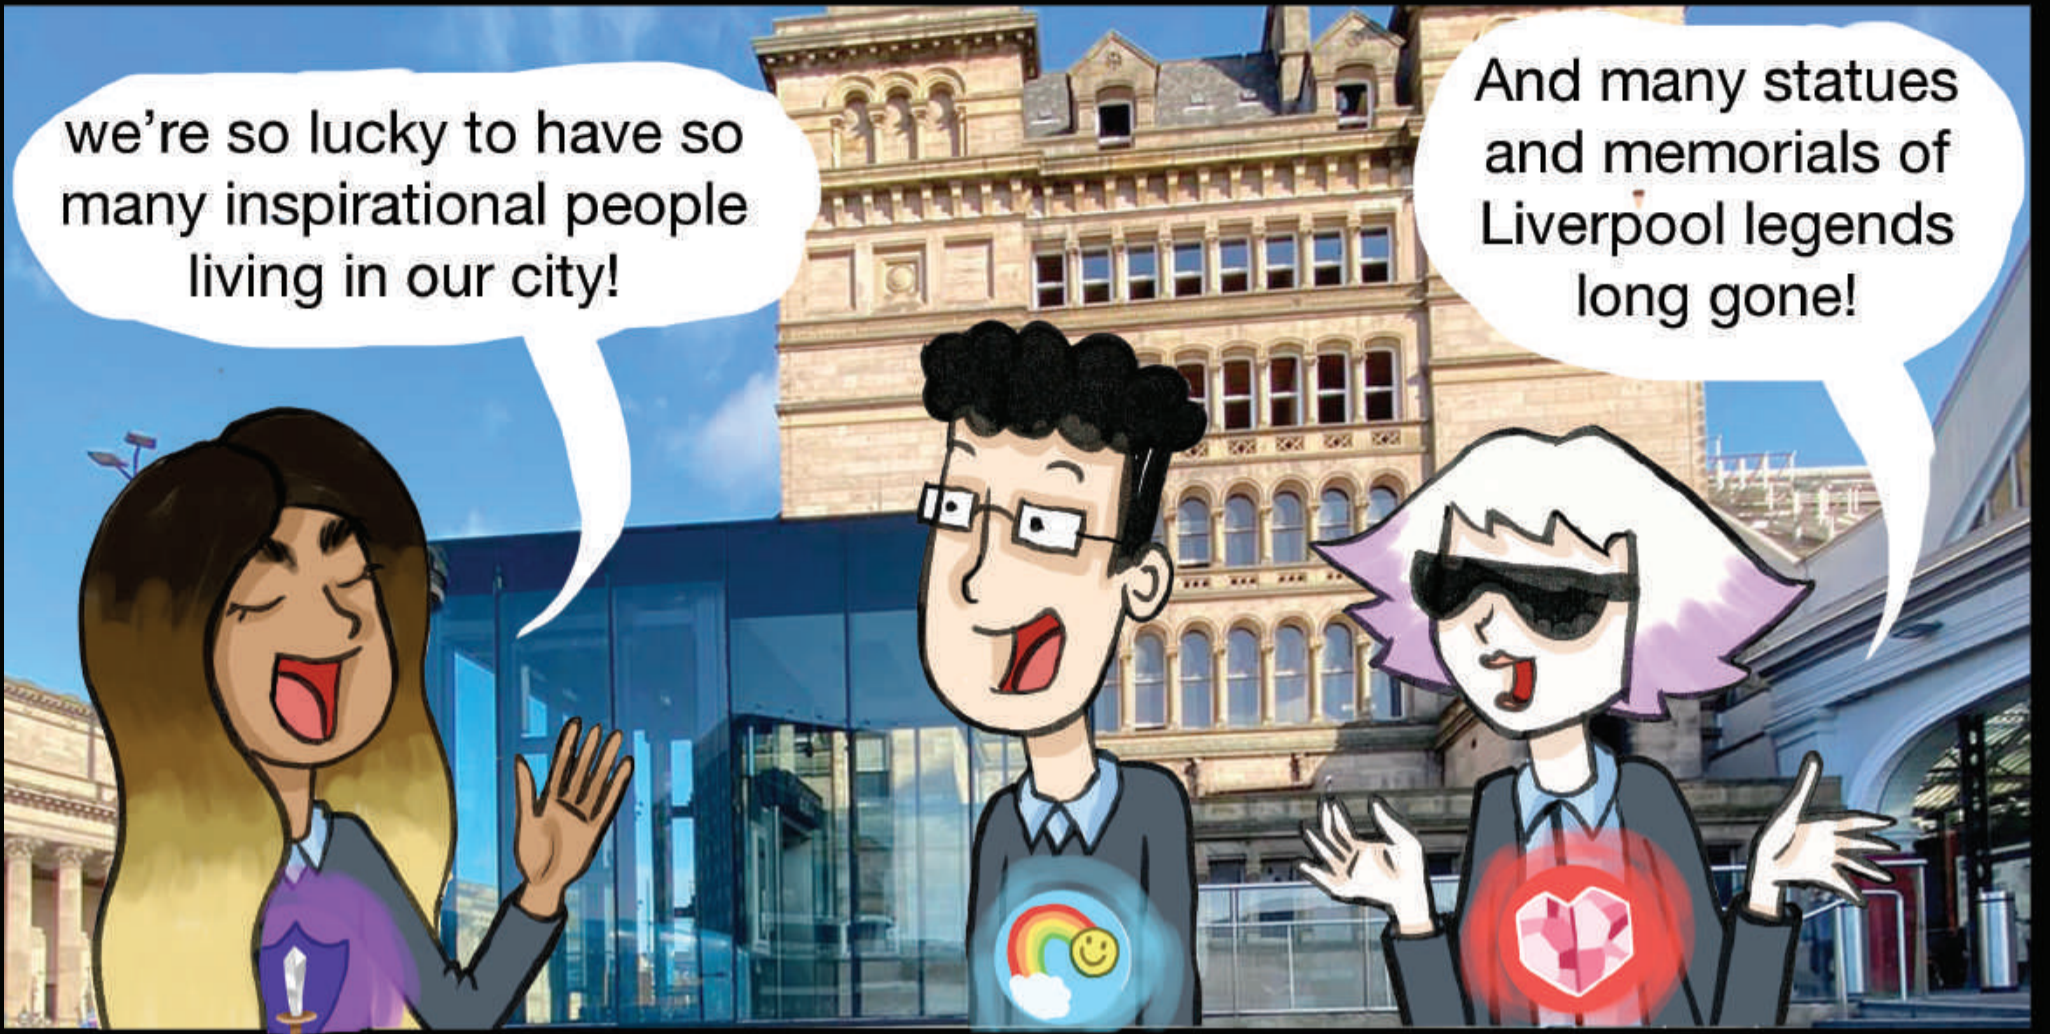

John Hulley stepped out of Lime Street

Hello again everyone!

John Hulley! The legend who started off our quest! Don't you turn back to a statue eventually?

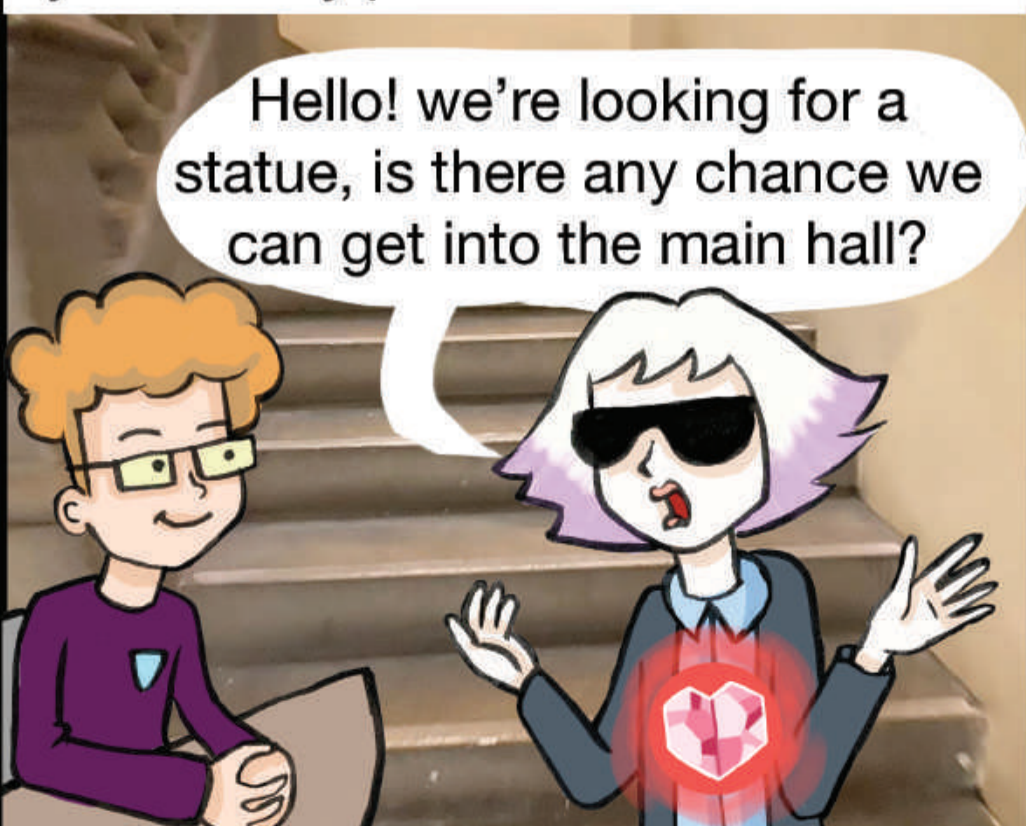

Everyone crossed over to St George's Hall, the main entrance was blocked off by barriers.

They made it inside and were greeted by a security person!

These are keys and they each form part of the peace emblem. A short time ago you may have felt very odd and possibly turned unusually nasty!

I did feel very odd and I actually shouted at all my friends and colleagues! It's only the past couple of hours I've been able to think straight and want to do my job as security again!

Now that we have 6 keys, things are starting to return to normal, but we will need our last key to complete our journey of peace and we know its in a statue within this building!

Everyone has a key but me!

Well why didn't you say so?

The main Hall is filled with statues, I'll sneak you inside!

This way everyone!

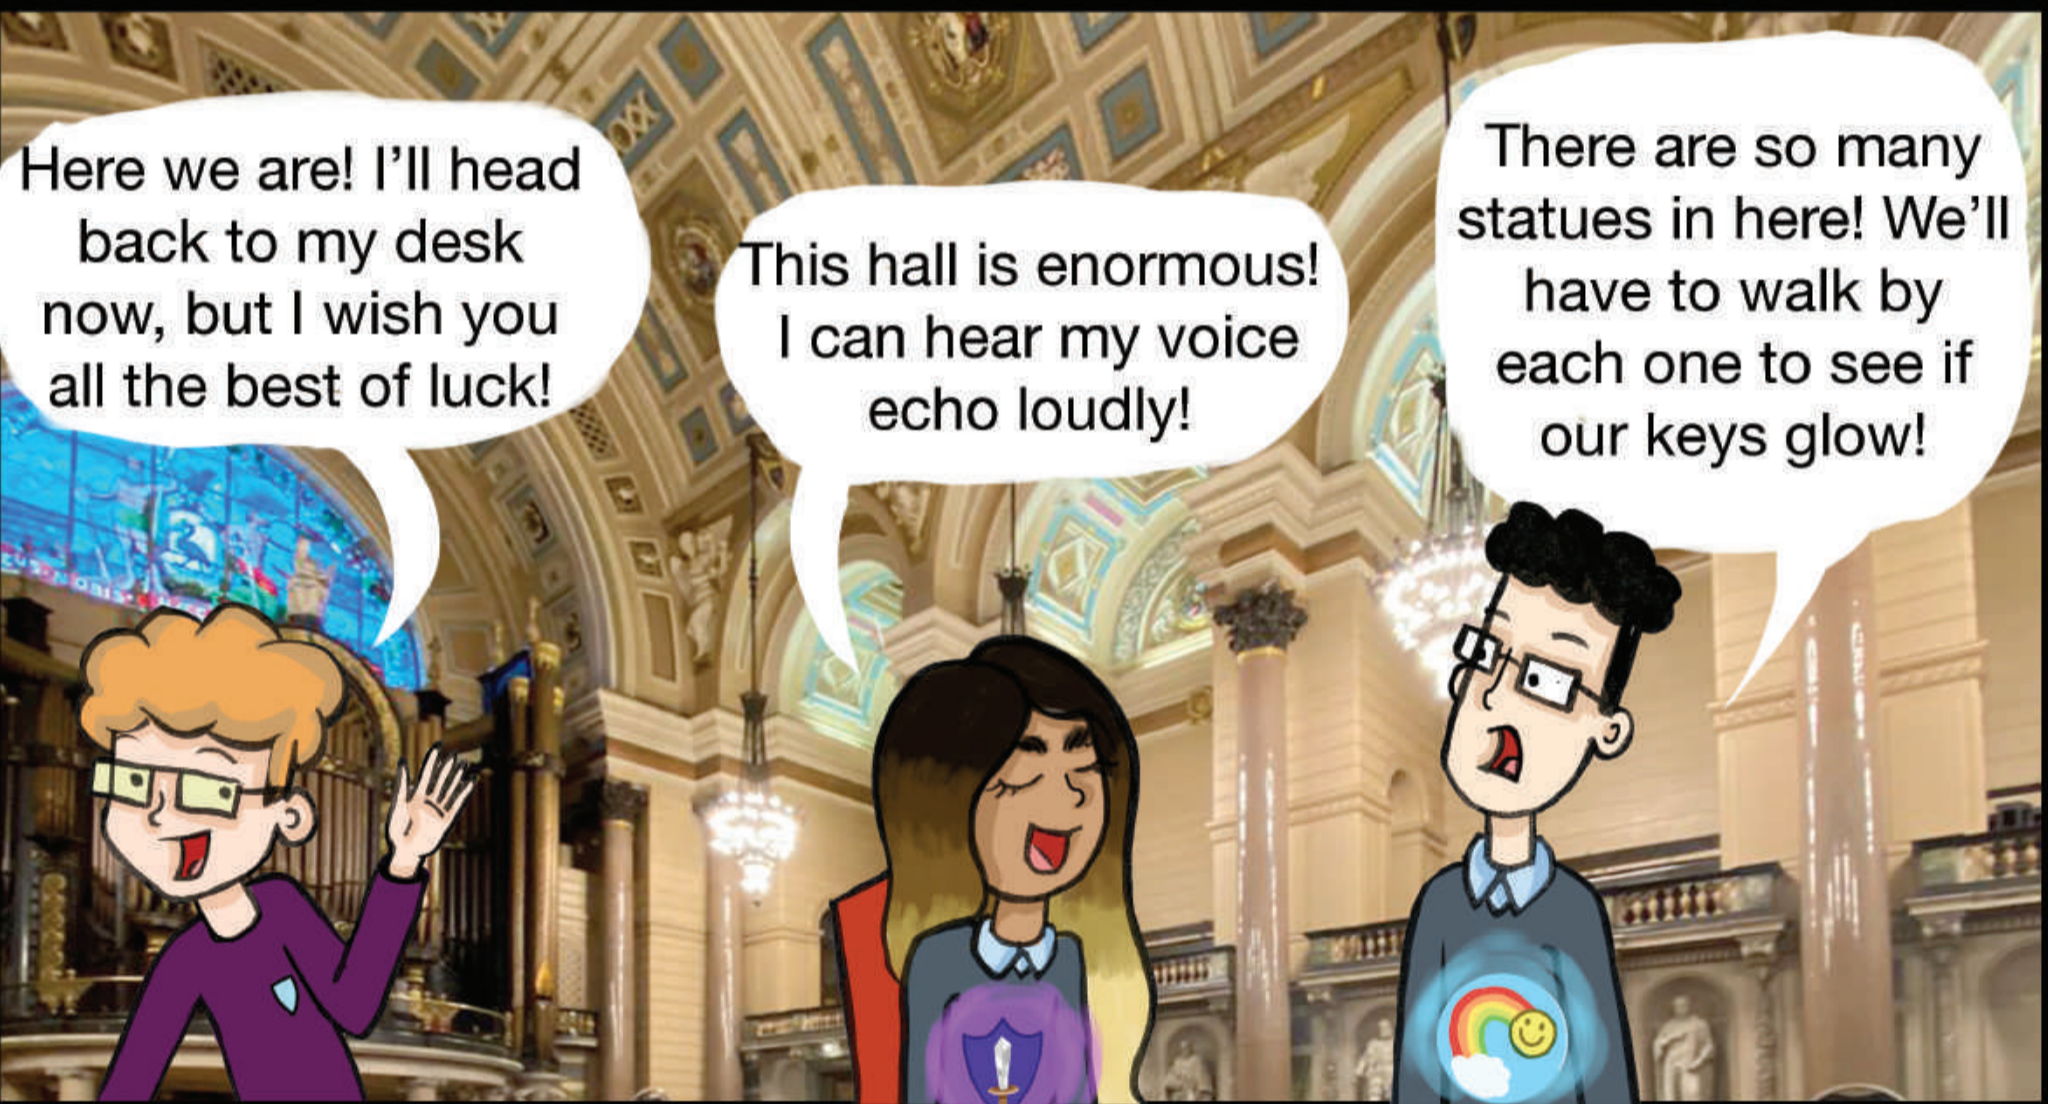

The security person led everyone up the stairs

I'll take the lift with Luna!

Thank you for taking us!

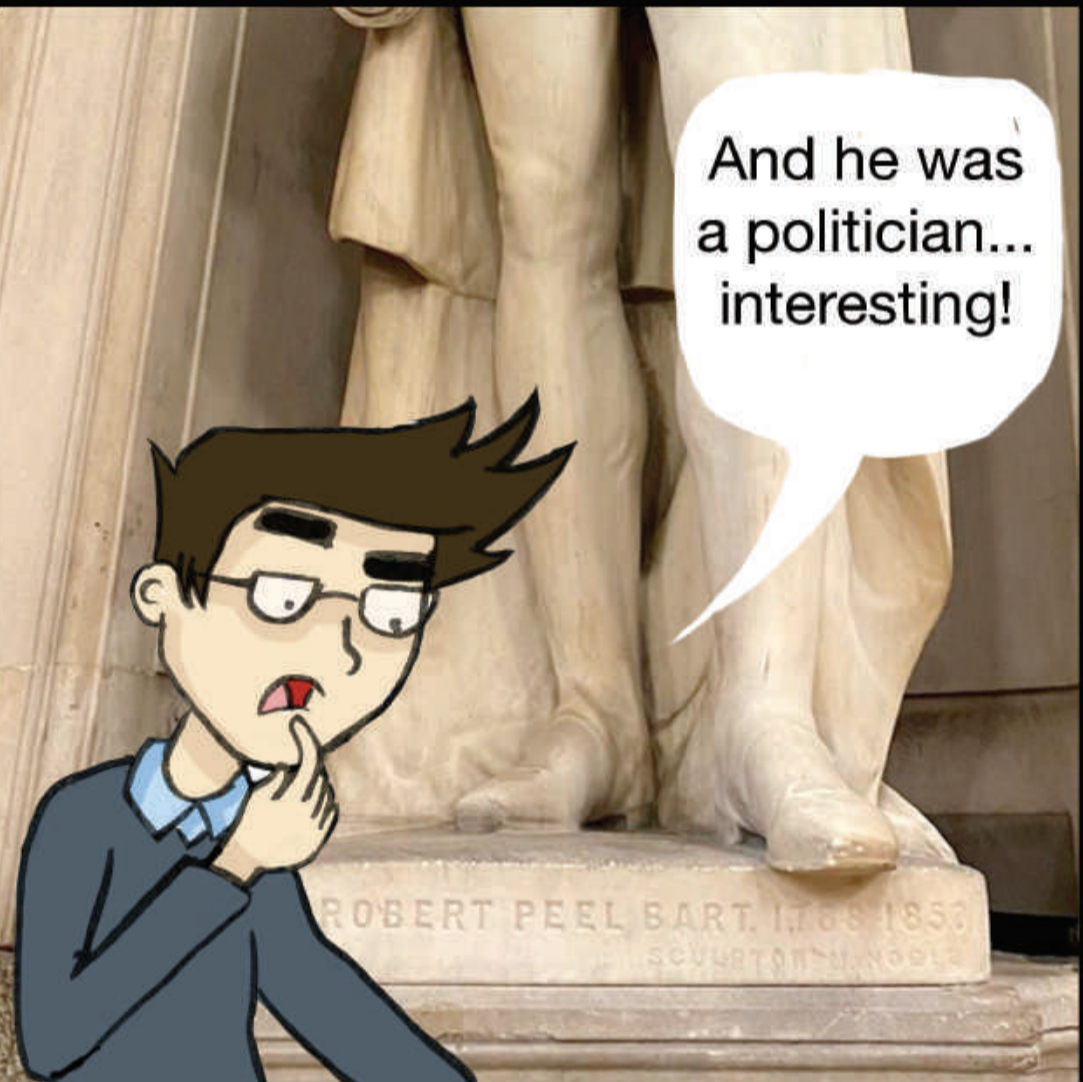

SUDDENLY, the emblem on Will's chest began glowing brightly!

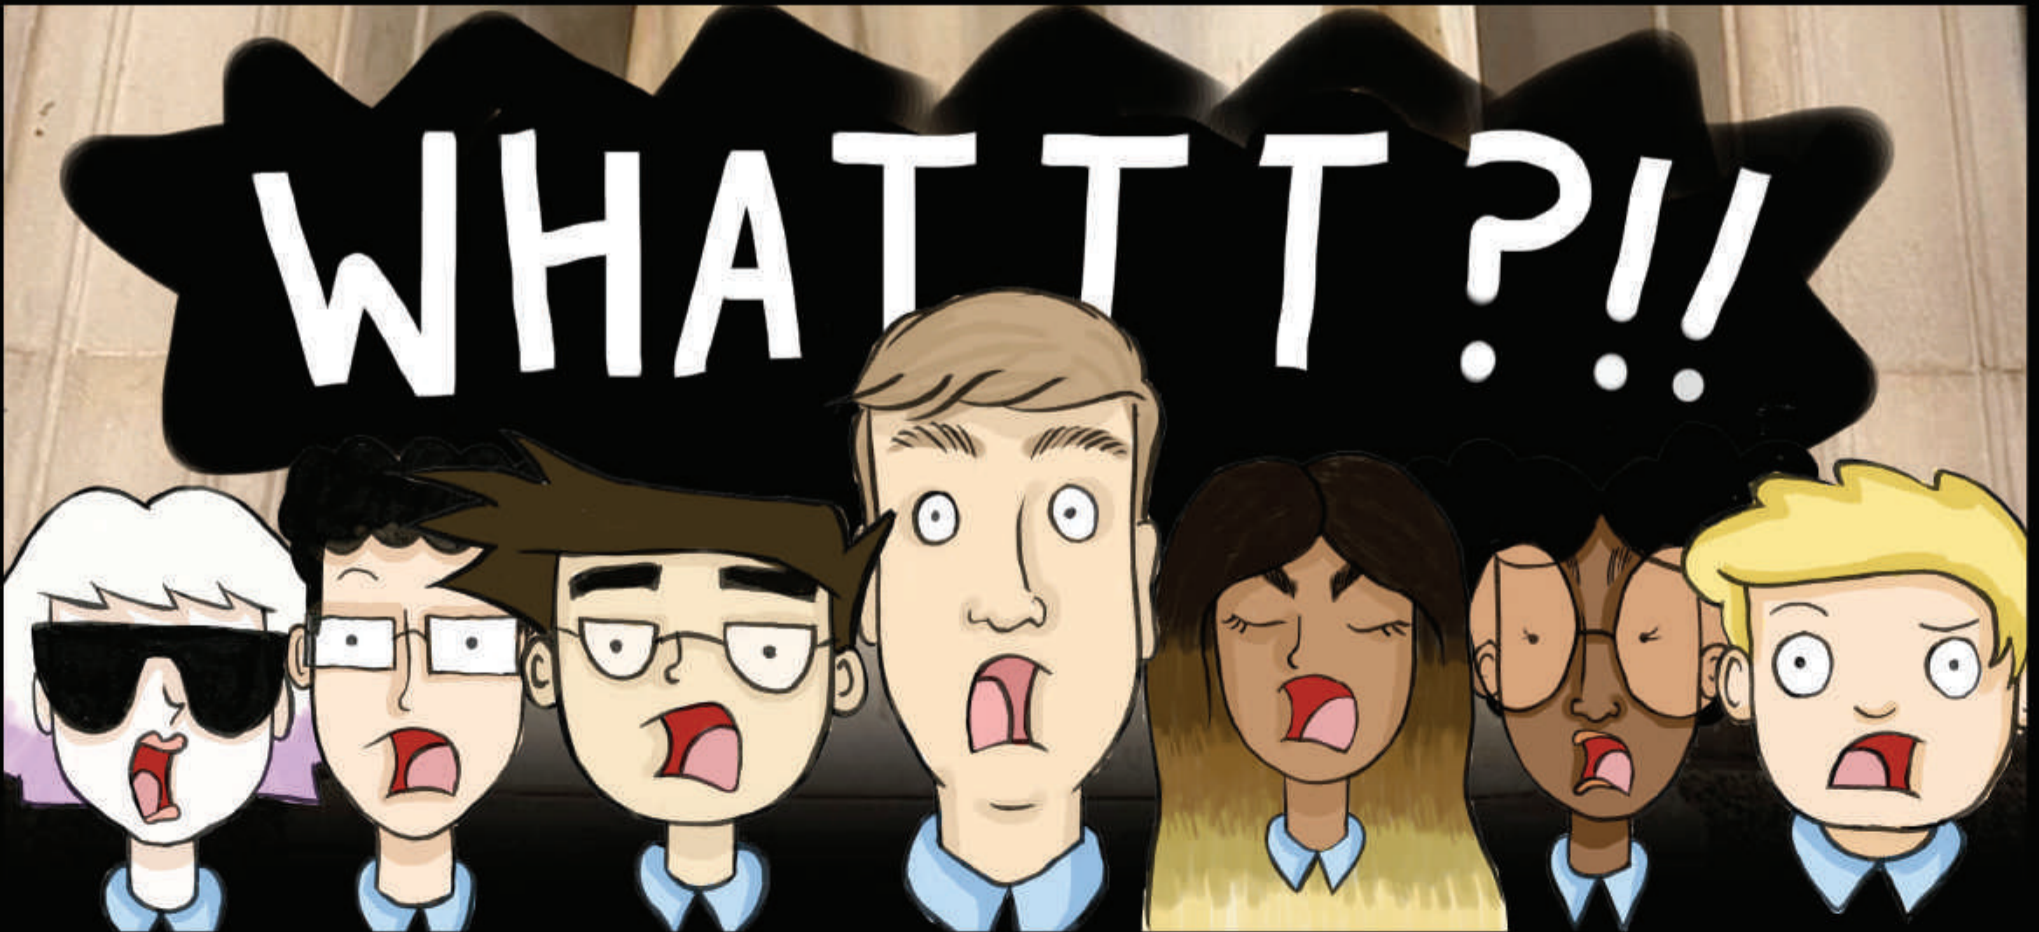

Everyone rushed to the statue

Everyone turned around, revealing ALL of the evil versions of themselves! They had just pixelated into place.

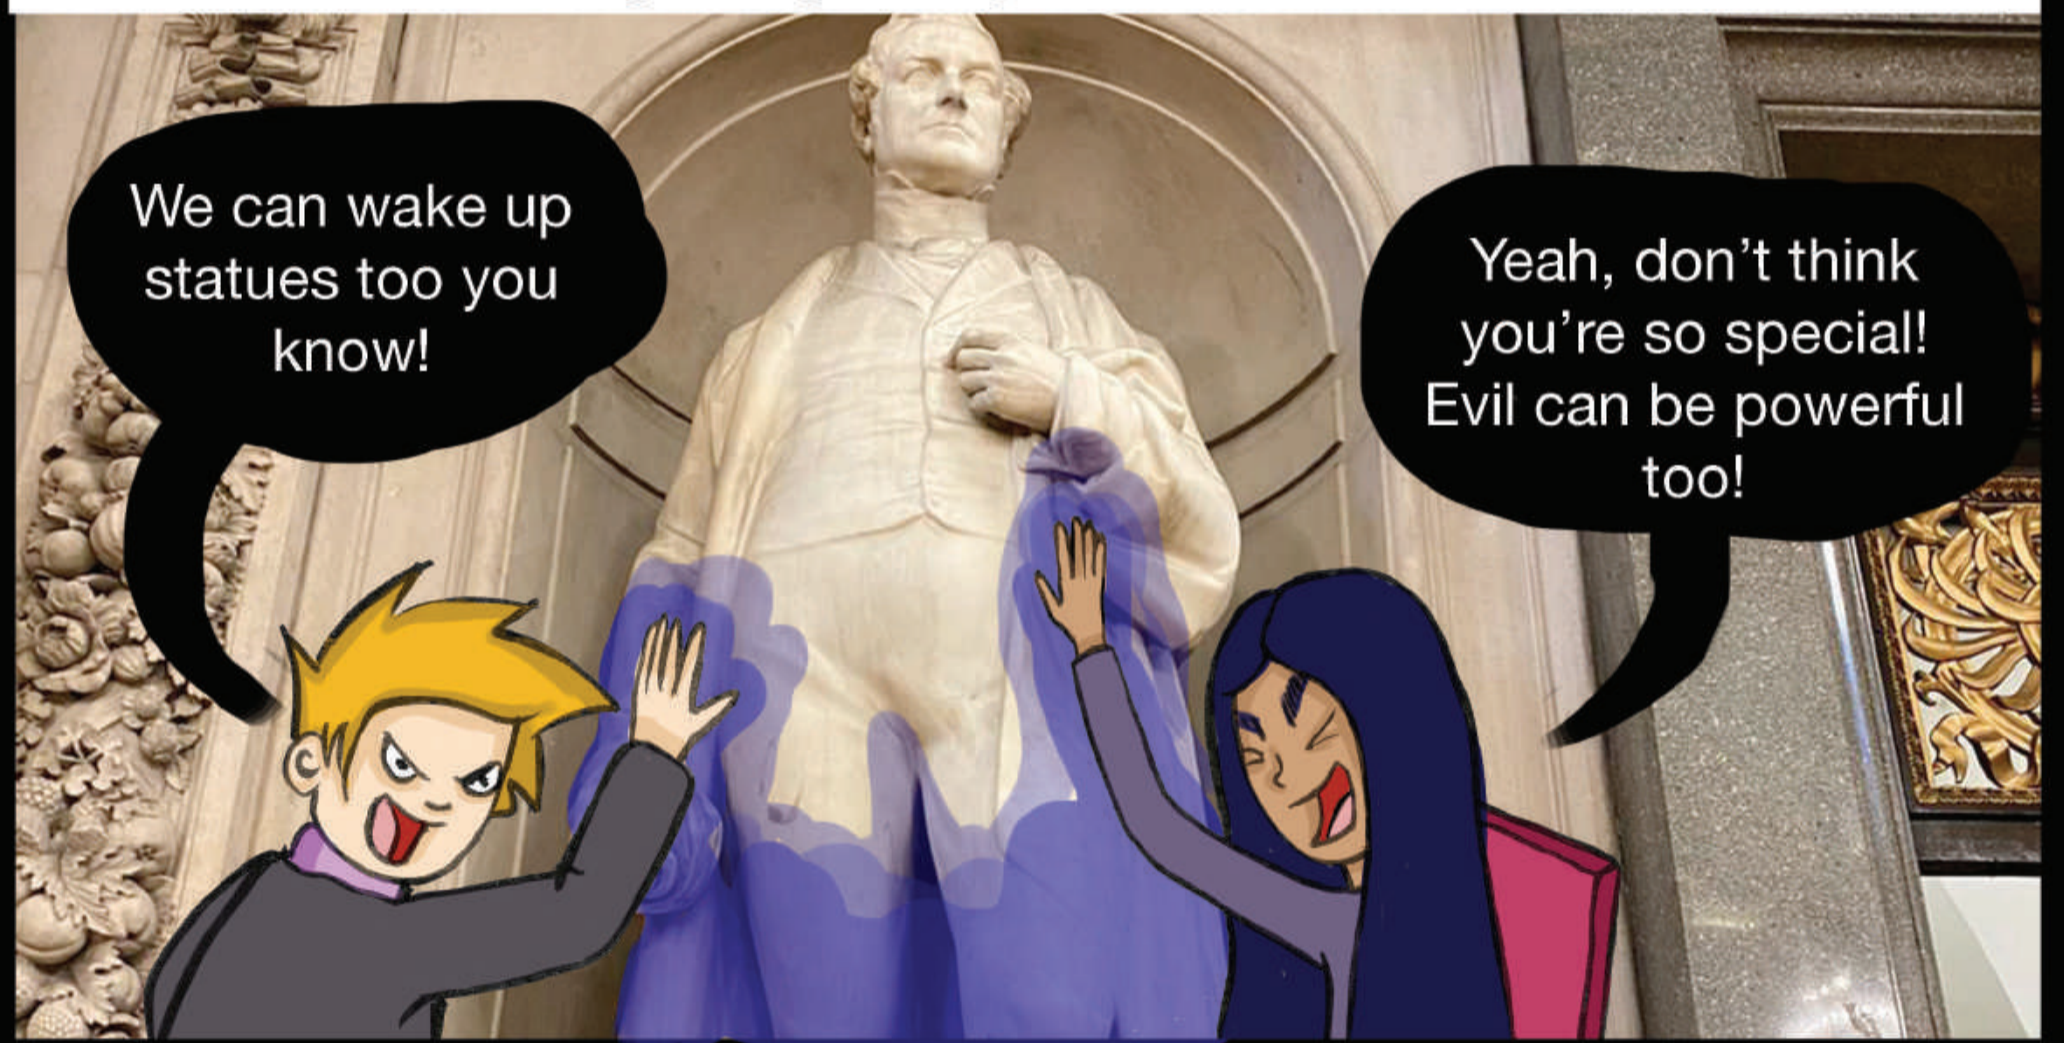

QUICK EVERYONE!
Wake Robert Peel!

No! Don't! Lets get rid of evil us first! We can't risk them stealing his key, there are too many of them!

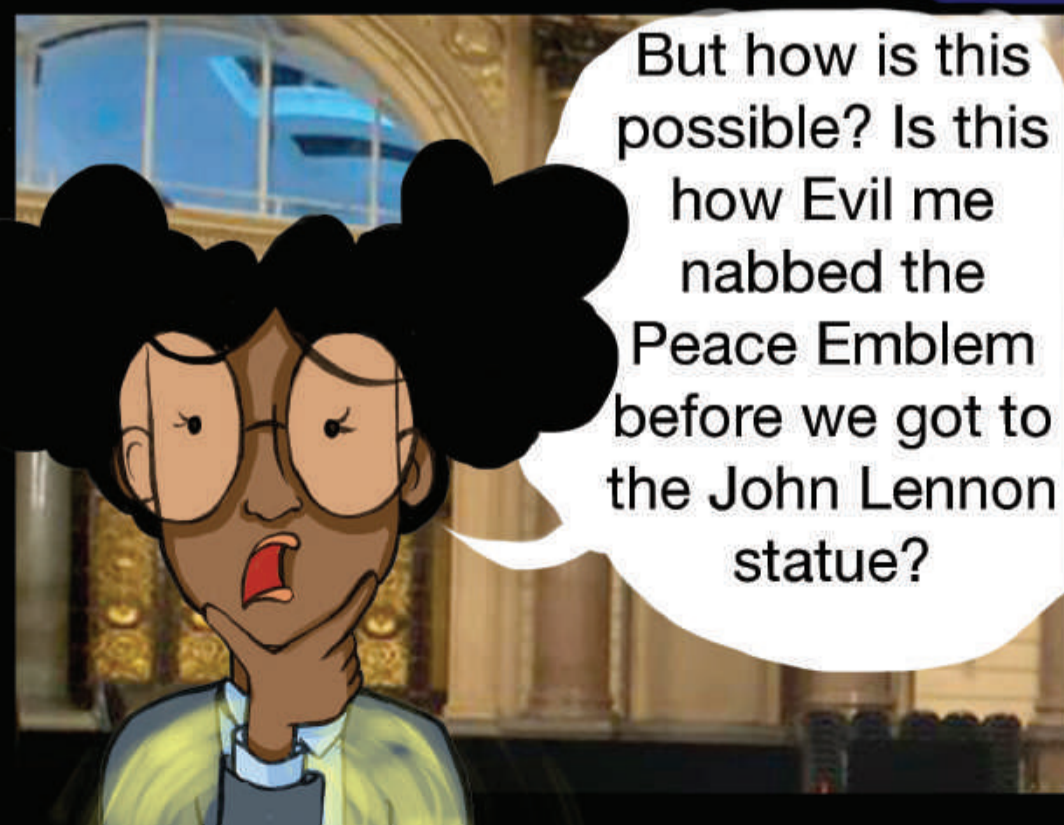

Great idea!

The evil St Vincent's gang crowded around the statue and started touching it... The statue started glowing a deep electric blue!

We can wake up statues too you know!

Yeah, don't think you're so special! Evil can be powerful too!

But how is this possible? Is this how Evil me nabbed the Peace Emblem before we got to the John Lennon statue?

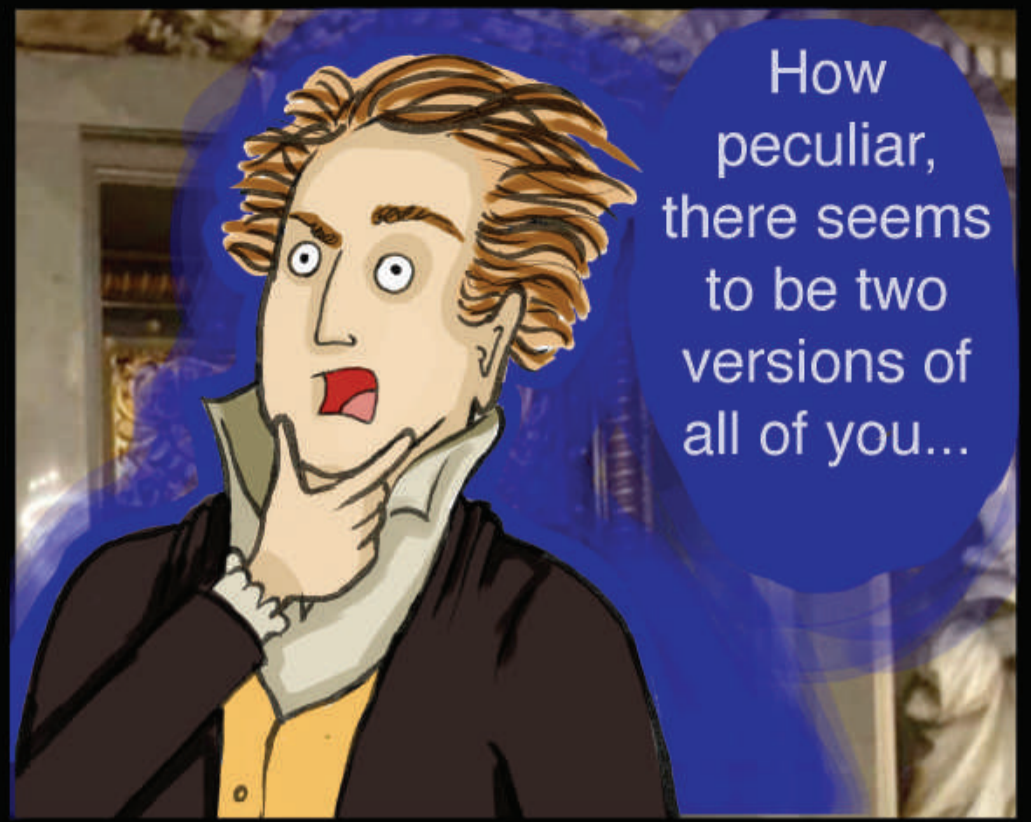

NO! Robert Peel is waking up!!

There was a bright flash of electric blue, and Robert Peel woke up looking baffled and confused...

Whats been going on here?? I can spot trouble makers a mile away!

Battle for the emblem! Good vs Evil!

Lets steal the emblems they already have!

Great idea!

Evil Will charged towards Good Will, Good Will braced himself...

The Emblem shone brightly and projected Evil Will away from Good Will, with a flash that looked like lightning!

My emblem protected me!!

So violence wouldn't have worked all along and that's why John Hulley could protect us with his key at the start of our journey!

WHOA! Our keys protect us??

Oh no! The keys have power to protect them from evil??

We need to steal their keys!

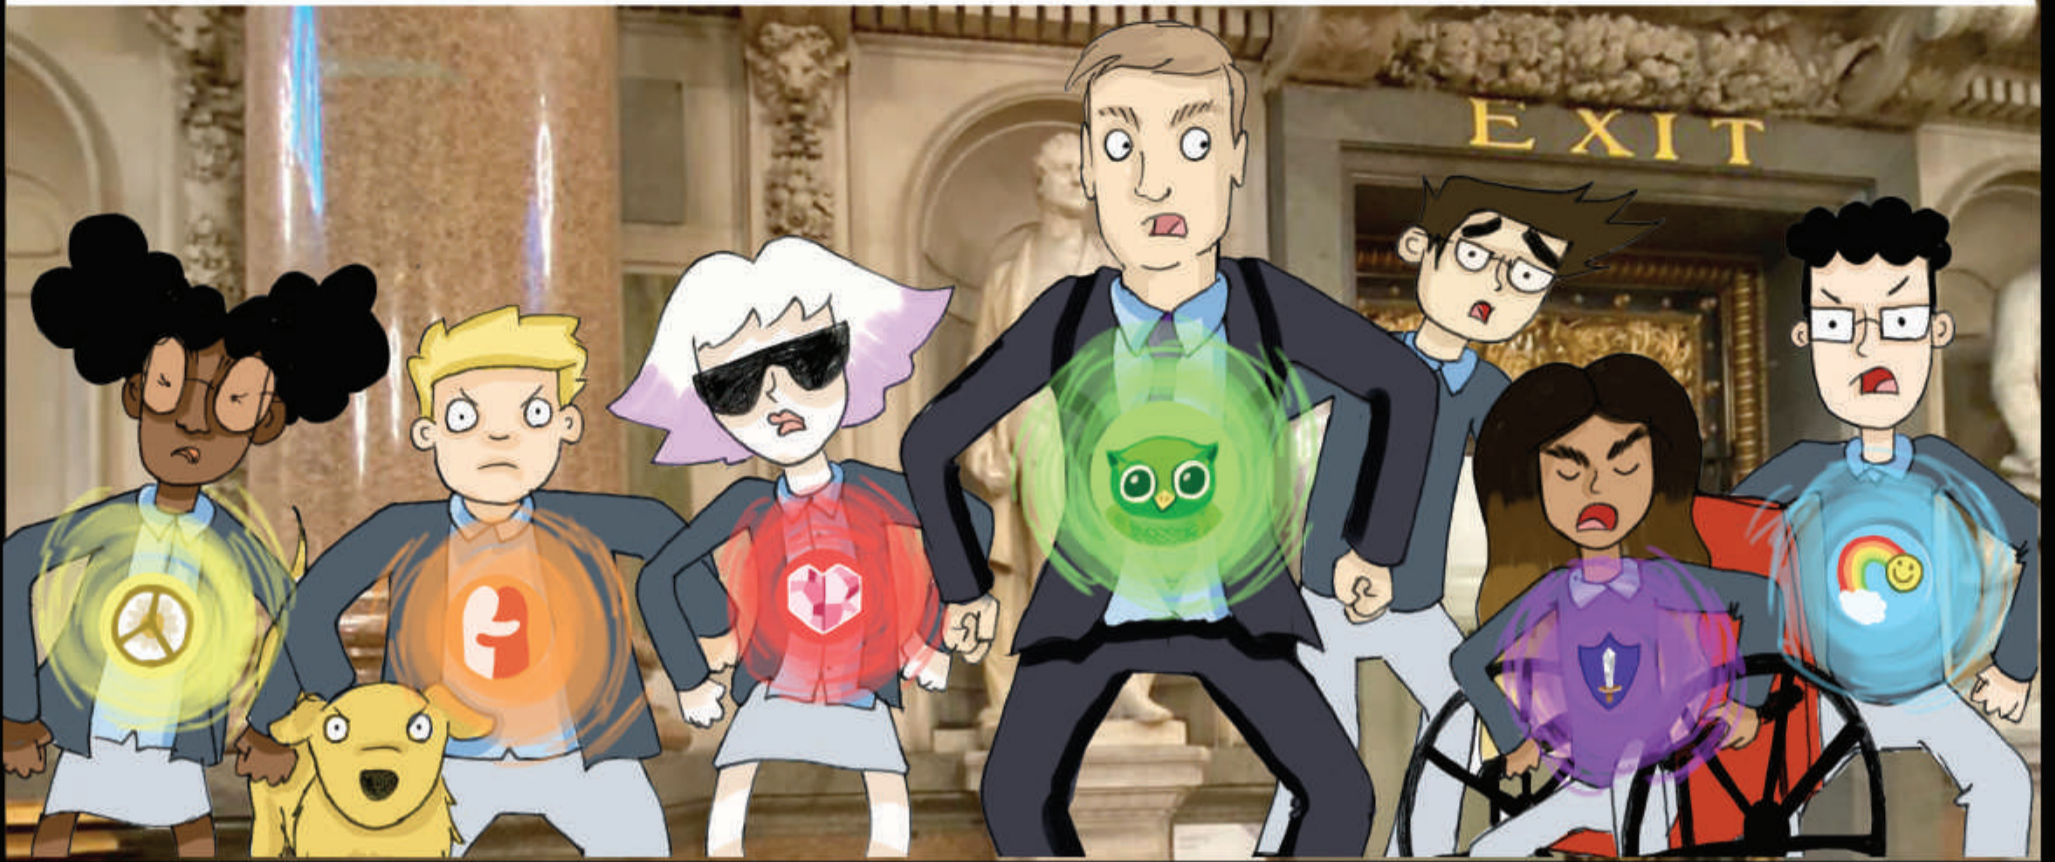

If we have those keys, then not only will peace be gone, but we will be INVINCIBLE!!

Which also means we can do whatever we want!

GET READY TO CHARGE!

Everyone stood together as a team bracing themselves, with Joe being shielded behind everyone as he didn't have a key to protect him.

The evil versions of everyone started charging towards the St Vincent's gang!

NO! ITS NOT QUITE WORKING!
WE NEED MORE POWER!

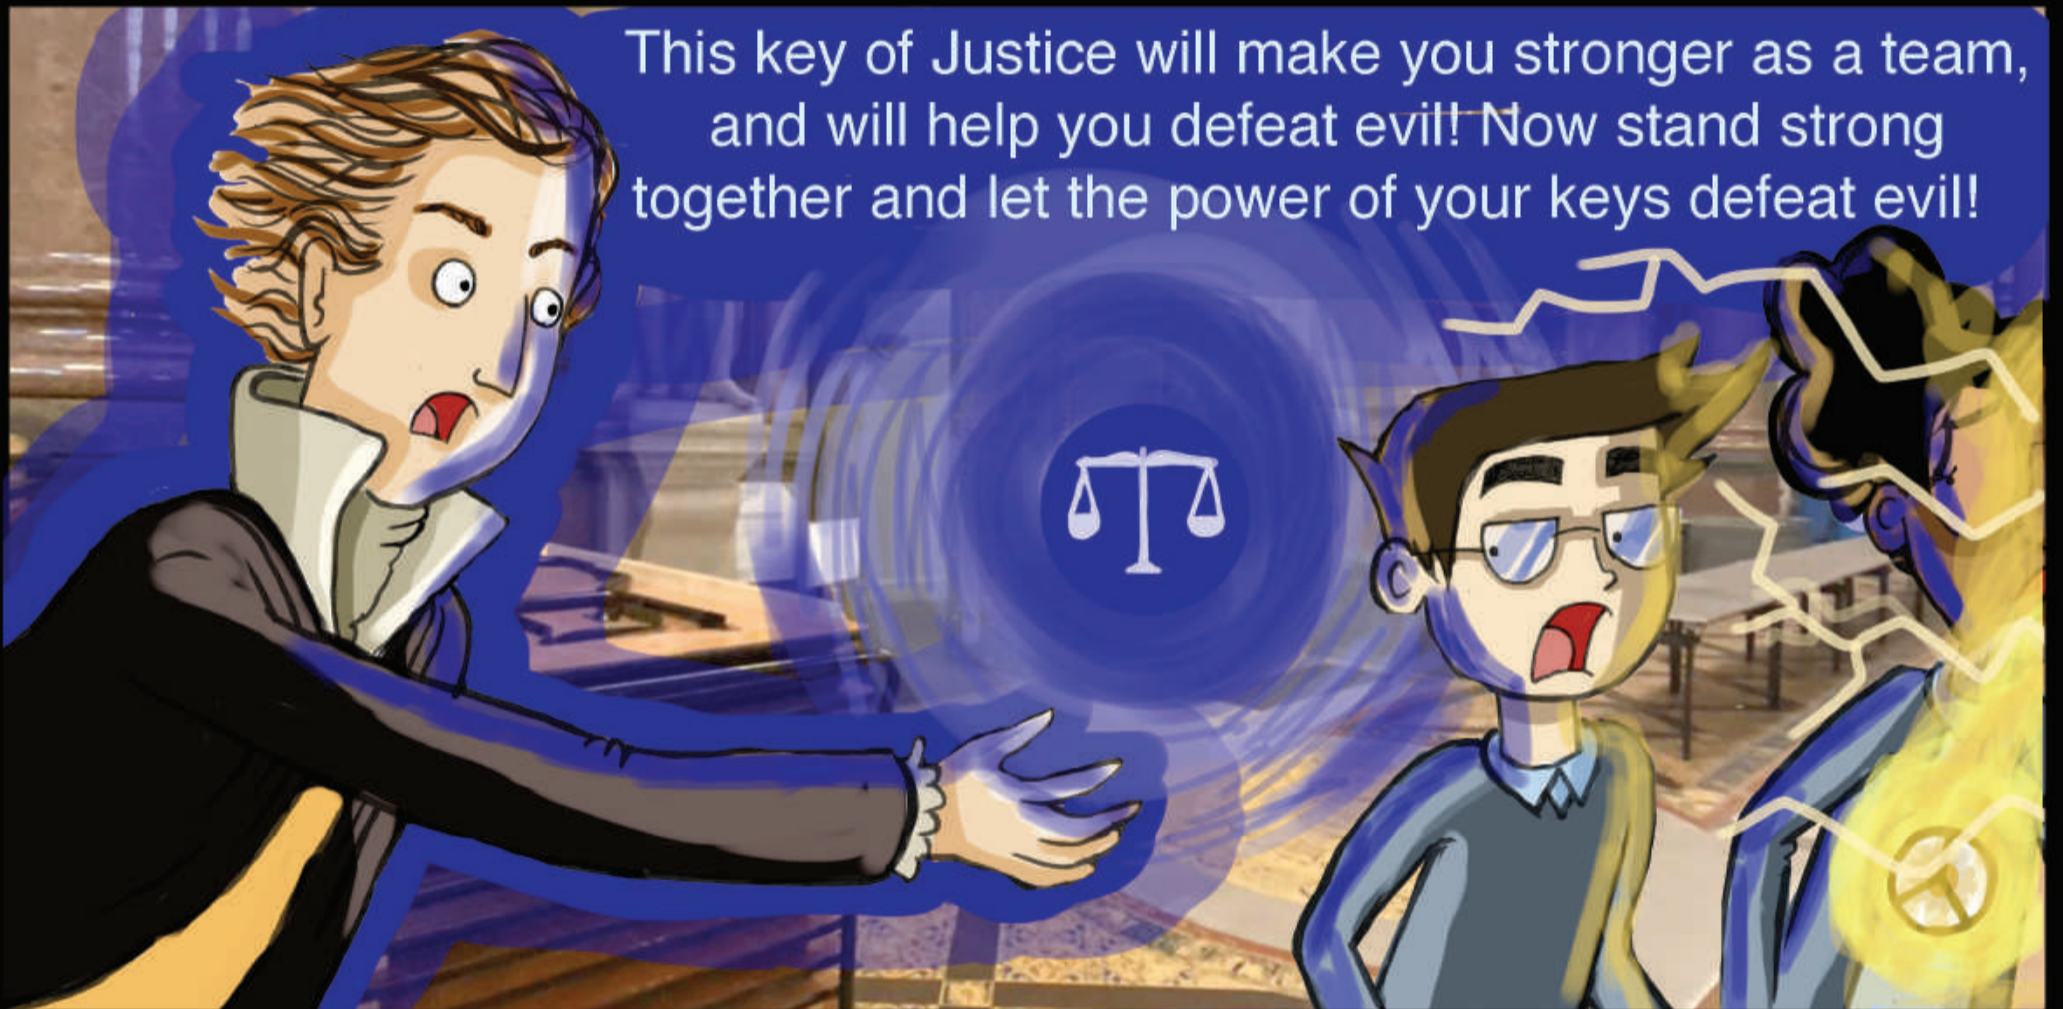

Robert Peel saw Joe being shielded at the back without a Key

YOU THERE! QUICK! TAKE THIS!

This key of Justice will make you stronger as a team, and will help you defeat evil! Now stand strong together and let the power of your keys defeat evil!

Joe stood at the front!

JOE GOT THE LAST KEY!

The evil versions of everyone CRASHED into the St Vincents gang, creating a huge flash of colour and an explosion! The keys protected everyone from evil, and the evil versions of everyone began to pixelate away...

No!! We didn't think this through!

Everyone watched on as the evil versions of themselves pixelated into oblivion...

They thought violence would help them steal our keys, but they we're wrong, together the keys are super powerful

Looks like peace will always be the answer...

That was a spectacular display of sticking together and fighting for peace and justice!

Well thank you for helping us Robert Peel! For giving me the key of justice to help defeat evil!

Of course, as the father of modern policing, it's my duty to care about peace, and will always try my best to do the right thing.

As far as I'm concerned, peace and justice will always prevail!

DID YOU KNOW?

Robert Peel served twice as Prime Minister
(1834 – 1835 and 1841 – 1846)

He Served twice as Home Secretary
(1822 – 1827 and 1828 = 1830)

He is regarded as the father of modern British policing, owing to his founding of the Metropolitan Police Service in 1829

Early policemen were given the nickname 'Peelers' referring to Robert Peel's surname but we now know them
by the term 'Bobby's' which is of course a nickname for Robert!

Robert Peel

15th February 1788-
2nd July - 1850

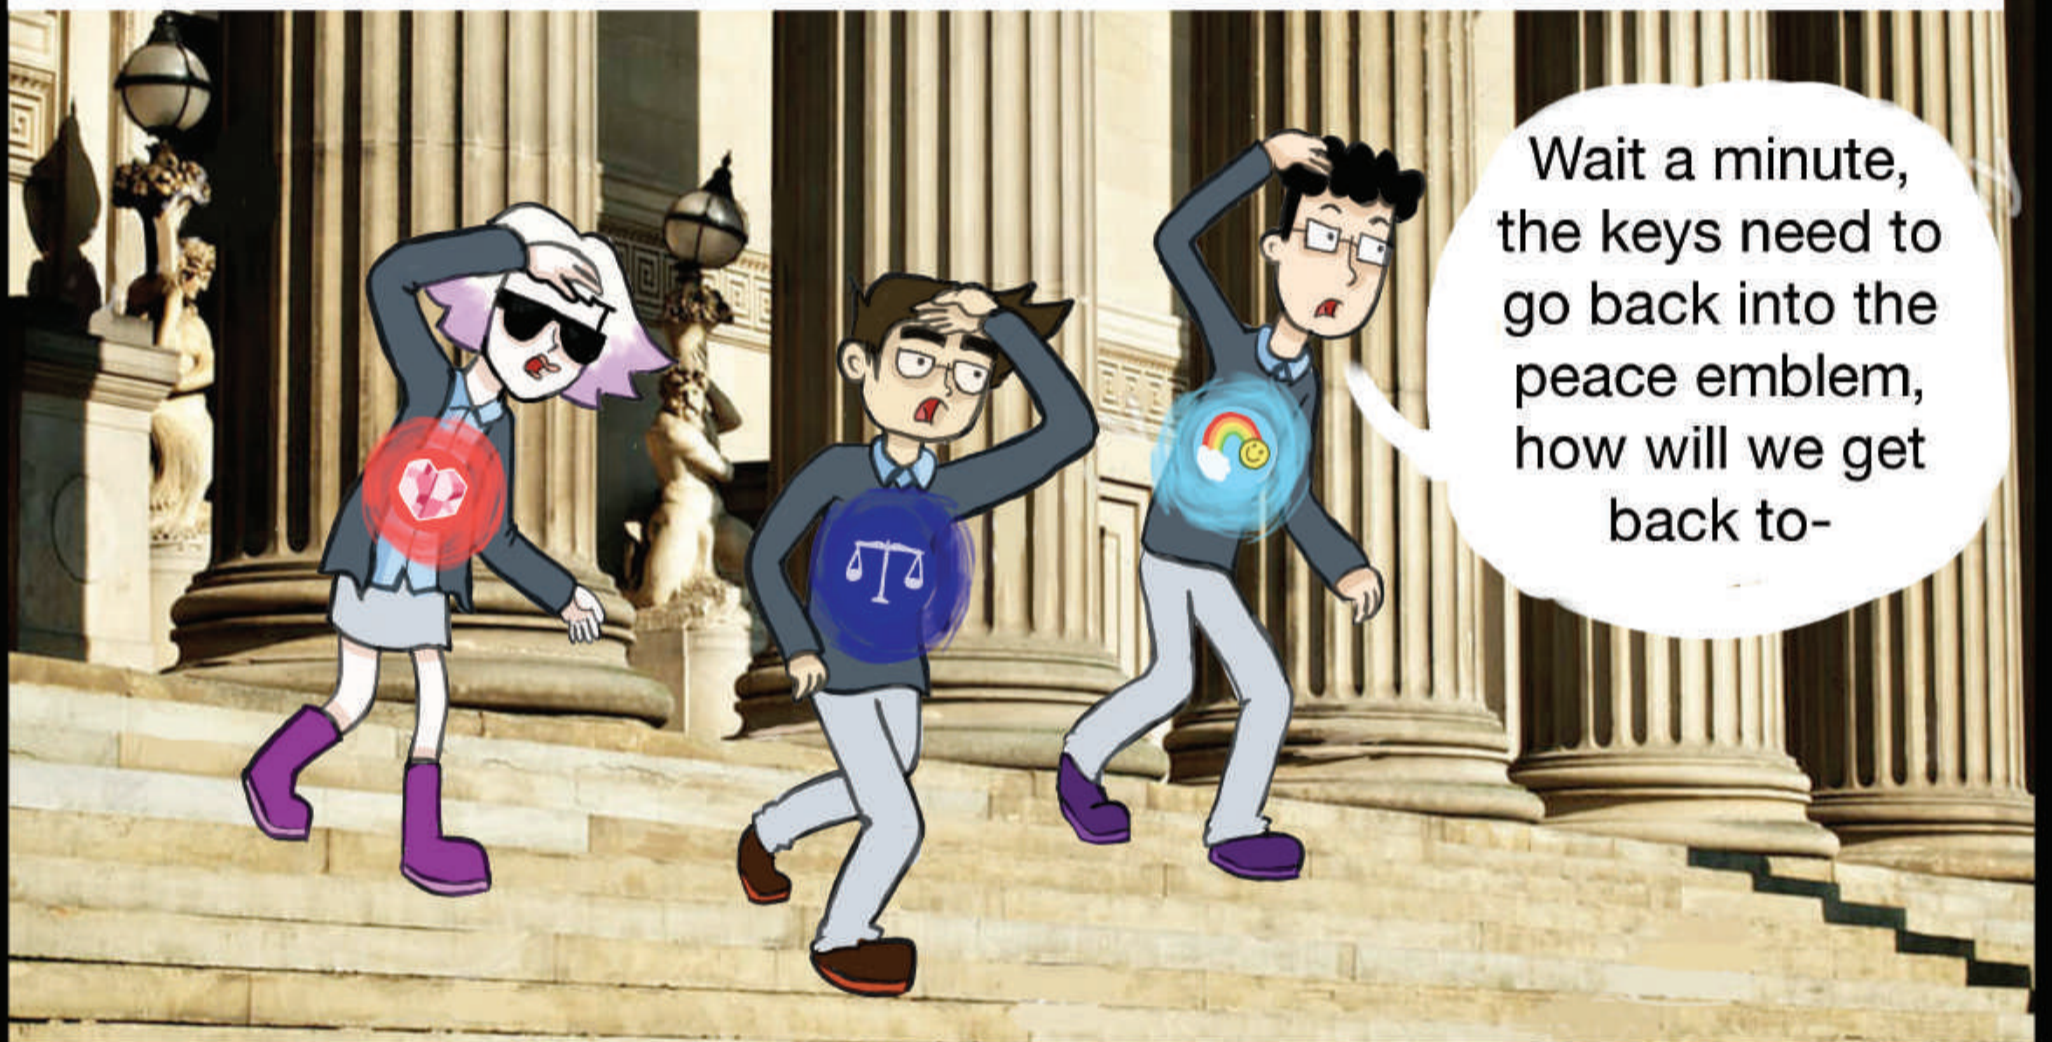

We did it Vincy!
We have all 7
keys!

So, does that mean peace is restored now?

I'm not sure, lets go check outside!

Everyone stepped outside onto the steps of St Georges Hall, with Robert Peel following behind.

Wait a minute,
the keys need to go back into the
peace emblem,
how will we get back to-

Guys! Is that who I think it is?

The Liverbirds were flying towards
St Georges Hall, holding the peace emblem

It is! It's the Liverbirds! & it looks like they have company!

The Liverbirds landed and everyone onboard stepped off

And we wanted to say thank you too!
We knew you could do it!

Now to return the keys back to their rightful place...

Everyone stood in a circle, and their keys started glowing! The keys began flying upwards towards the broken peace emblem

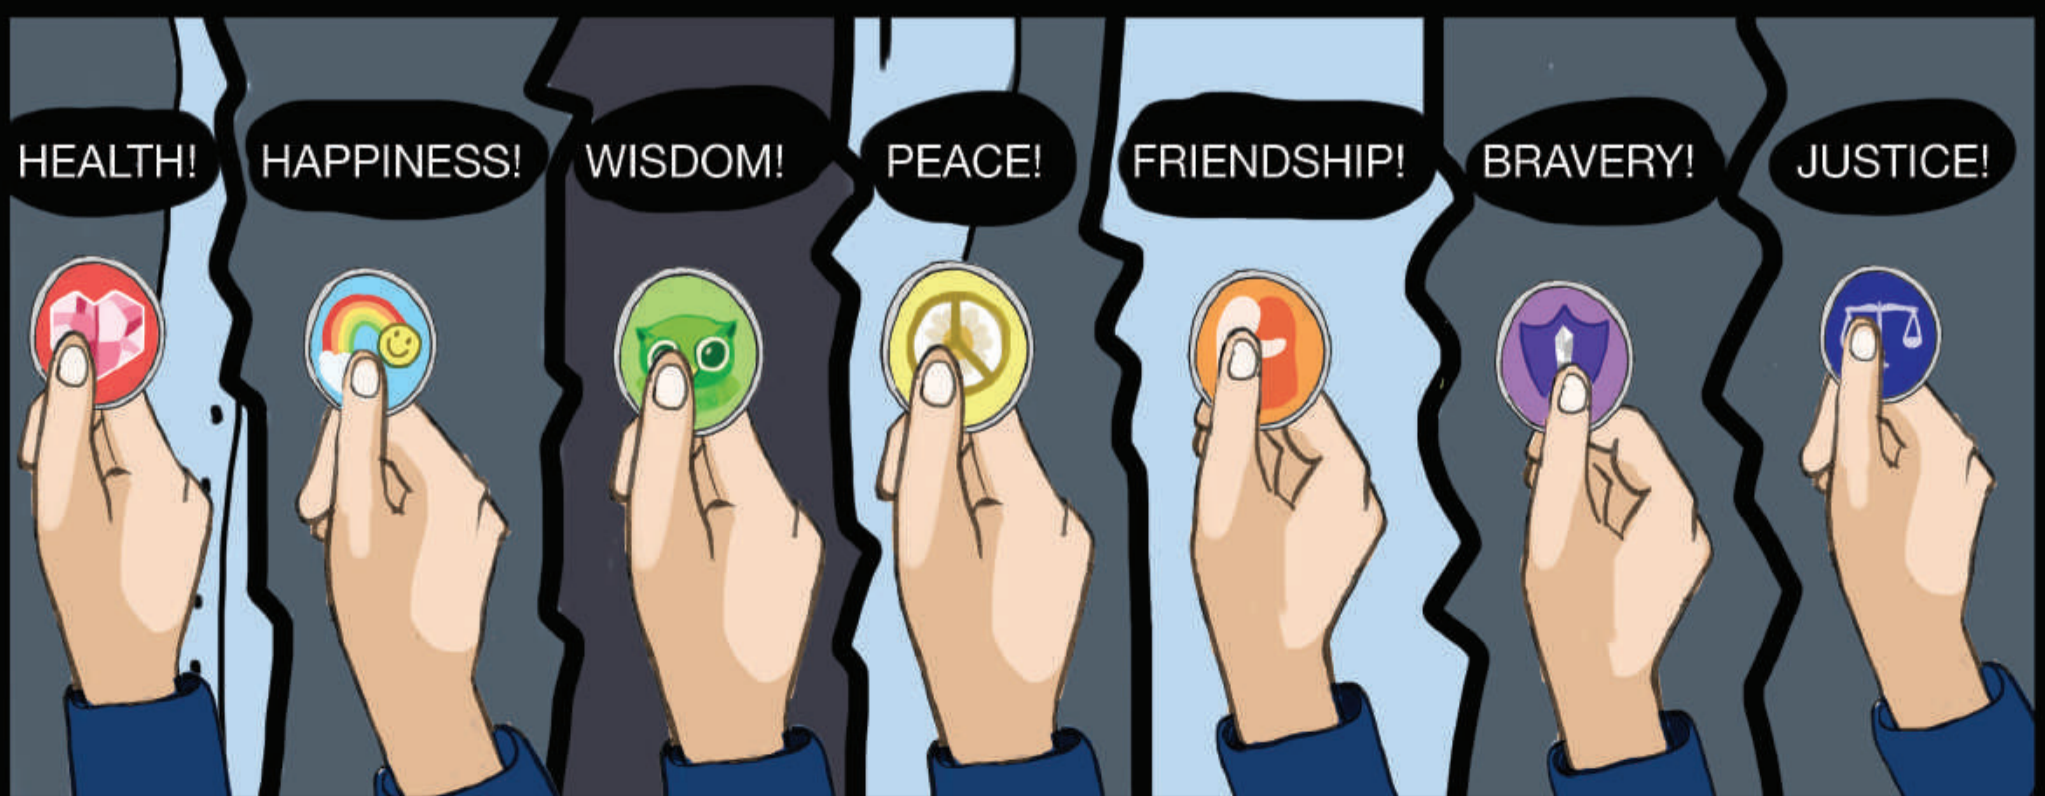

The keys slotted into place, and the cracks on the emblem began healing up.. The emblem was restored!

DCC Serena Kennedy held out a fancy looking box and opened it up... It contained badges

And we have a special surprise for everyone too!

East of Eli stepped off The Liverbird's wing

Thanks for letting us be part of this moment!

Time to celebrate!

Woah! It's East of Eli!
I love this band!
