A Specialist School for Sensory Impairment and Other Needs

Headteacher's Weekly Newsletter

Friday 20th September

Dear Parents and Carers,

As we approach the end of week 3 I have been so pleased with all the pupils' hard work. Throughout the week I've enjoyed joining classes and working alongside pupils as they test my contracted braille and voiceover navigation skills.

The weather has stuck with us – and it's been great to see staff and pupils make use of the extensive outdoor learning space we have.

New staff

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome Miss Jukes to St. Vincent's School. Miss Jukes has joined us this week as she takes up her new role as English teacher. You'll find out a little more about Miss Jukes in our half-termly newsletter.

New Pupils

It has been a very busy week welcoming new pupils as they start their journey with us here at St Vincent's. From as far as the United States – I'm very proud of how quickly our pupils have helped them settle into school life.

St Vincent's Day

On Friday 27th of September we will be celebrating St Vincent's Day. Following our Coffee Morning all staff and pupils will be attending chapel for a whole-school assembly. All information regarding our Macmillan Coffee Moring is now with you in a separate letter.

Weekend Activity

Thank you to all parents, carers and pupils who joined us for our first weekend activity day – a reminder that our next activity day is Saturday 28th September.

Finally I would like to wish Miss. Bishop a very restful break as she finishes today to start her maternity leave.

Best wishes,

Mr D Swanston

Interim Headteacher
